

How to Dress for Professional Success

First Impression is very important. You must look credible, trustworthy and successful through your clothing & appearance. You might be the most talented, experienced, and brilliant applicant your potential employer has ever met, but there's a chance those factors won't be enough to land your dream job. Even if you're perfectly qualified for a position and nail every interview question, you might not get the job if you're not dressed right for the occasion.
